

Music Monday: Acrostic

In an acrostic, the first letters in each line of the poem spell out a word. For example, you might write an acrostic using a name:
Runs a terrible soup restaurant. Only real pirate captain on the Title Wave. Likes to wear a bandana. Old friend named Poochie tricks him sometimes.
You can write an acrostic using your name, or the name of an imaginary character. Just make sure every line says something important about yourself, or about that character. Have a grownup share your poem with us with us at storypirates.com/submit-a-story.
