

Music Monday: Ode

An "Ode" is a poem about something or someone you love. It can be about a person, an animal, a place, a special object, or even a food! In the poem, you can express your feelings--come right out and say how much you love this person or thing! You can even throw in some exclamations, like "Oh!" or "Ah!" to really show the reader how strongly you feel. Here's a quick example:

Oh onions, you delicious onions! I love your sharp taste anywhere On a sandwich, or even plain, I love you! When I cut you I cry enough tears to fill the ocean Onions, oh onions I will eat you forever!

Write your own Ode poem about something or someone you love! Have a grownup share your poem with us with us at storypirates.com/submit-a-story.