Plentiful Professors!

Like every good university, Story Pirates University has a faculty--the group of professors who teach there. You know the real professors of SPU like Lauren and Sam, but now it's time to make some more up!

Draw a few professors for the University, and give them each a name. Then, think of what department they belong to, which is what subject they teach. It could be a real department like English, archaeology, or engineering, or a totally made up one. (Hint: you can add the suffix -ology to almost anything to mean "study of," so "tubaology" would be the study of tubas!)

Lastly, give some examples of courses, or classes they teach. These could have simple names like "Intro to Tuba" or more specific ones, like "Impressionist Tuba: Explorations and Emotions." You have Permission to Get Weird, and grownups can share with us on social media @storypirates or on the Creator Club website.

Draw each professor's face in the boxes here!
