Sugar and Spice

In the story "The Case of the Musical Cinnamon Buns," by a kid from New Jersey named Hannah, some cinnamon buns come to life (and sing). This got us thinking: what delicious treats could WE bring to life??

The only problem with cinnamon buns is that baking them is pretty complicated. So we decided to bake some cinnamon sugar cookies instead! Get a grownup to help, and either download our recipe to bake your own cookies at home (see above for where to download), or use your own favorite recipe for sugar cookies and icing.

Once you make the cookies, and apply some icing, next you can stick on some decorations to bring the cookies to life. Get some fruit, or sprinkles, or little pieces of candy, or any other toppings you want, and give each cookie a face. Make some happy cookies! Silly cookies! Singing cookies! Make some cookie people! Cookie animals! Cookie aliens!

And then...share your creations with us. We want to see what you come up with!
